

HITLER ULTIMATUM ARMS EMBELL BLOCKADE SPAIN

BRITAIN WARSHIPS FORCE PLEDGE FROM REBELS

By PIERRE J. HUSS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Berlin, Jan. 5.—With establishment of a "pacific blockade" the penalty for refusal, Germany today delivered an ultimatum to Spain demanding release of the cargo and passengers of the German steamer Palos within three days.

Unless this is done, the German Government warned, two Spanish steamers seized in Nazi waters will be turned over to General Franco's Spanish rebel forces and "fortified French armaments" taken.

Created in terms of a threat of "pacific blockade" the ultimatum would mean to Spanish rebels that the German Government would not permit any foreign ships to leave, and that Germany would not permit any foreign ships to leave, and that Germany would not permit any foreign ships to leave.

May involve powers. According to present plans, the blockade would mean to Spanish rebels that the German Government would not permit any foreign ships to leave, and that Germany would not permit any foreign ships to leave.

This was described as a "pacific blockade" but the United States took the attitude such a blockade could not apply to foreign shipping, with the result it became a threatening war blockade.

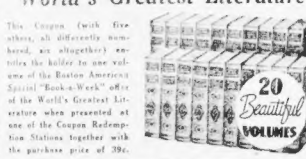

According to naval experts here, a "pacific blockade" in Spain would not be a declaration by the German government, but a declaration by the German government, but a declaration by the German government, but a declaration by the German government.

Editorial Note: This German ultimatum is at variance with the internationally accepted code governing "pacific blockades," which provides for declaration of a blockade of neutral waters violating the blockade, but absolutely prohibits enforcement under any circumstances.

PLAN USE OF PLANES. In the event a blockade is declared upon certain German naval forces in Spanish waters will be reinforced and supplies will be sent.

LAWYERS SPEEDED TO KEEP U. S. OUT OF WAR

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 5.—With Spain's civil war threatening to engulf all Europe, Congress was poised today to pass through emergency legislation guaranteeing strict neutrality.

As one of the first acts, Congress expected to give swift approval to legislation guaranteeing strict neutrality.

1-Extend its provisions to include civil war, thus halting proposed shipments of arms to Spain.

2-Further assure the United States' abstention from all foreign conflicts by including "verdict" and "war supplies" on the embargo list and giving the President sweeping discretionary authority in application of the act to belligerents.

A joint resolution, approved by the President and drafted for presentation to Senate and House for simultaneous passage, was given the go-ahead today by the State Department to Robert C. Jensen, State Department spokesman.

Despite reported transshipment of arms to Spain through Holland and the State Department declared today that no American arms have been in this country destined for other belligerent or rebel forces.

80,000 OUT IN AUTO STRIKE; LABOR 'DICTATORS' HIT

As believed by industry spokesmen here, would have been a definite step making for settlement, possibly with the Federal Government stepping actively into the picture.

While strikes spread in Toledo, there was a noted lull in the strike in Detroit, where the United Auto Workers, led by Walter Reuther, president of the International Union of Automobile Workers, were holding a conference.

"Will a labor organization run the plants of General Motors or will the management continue to do so?"

REAL ISSUE

That, he said, was the "real issue" in the company's dispute with the United Automobile Workers Union, which has called the strike which forced closing of 24 of the company's 49 plants.

Reuther's statement, made on a bulletin board in an ILM plant in the morning, came as Henry Ford, president of the U. A. W., made public his letter to Reuther, in which the union requested a meeting for a "national conference" to discuss the strike and outlined the terms of a proposed settlement.

TOLEDO STRIKE CALLED

Meanwhile, according to dispatches received here, a strike was called by the United Auto Workers in Toledo, Ohio. The plant there employs 1,000 workers.

Children's strikes had been reported in the Toledo area, where the ILM at Plant No. 1, where Reuther is president, is also active.

CURLEY MAKES NEW CHANGE IN BRIDAL PLANS

That Governor James M. Curley has changed some of his wedding day plans was learned from an authoritative source today by the Boston Evening American.

Original plans of the governor to take his bride to the state house following the wedding ceremony and breakfast Thursday morning will be altered so that the bride will not march down the state house steps with the Governor after the ceremony.

Although the Governor was reluctant to talk about the changes in his plans, it was told the Boston Evening American from another source that the Governor will be the Chief Executive would rather join his bride at a secret meeting place.

HOME BREAKFAST

Following the wedding in St. Mary's Church at Boston College at 10 o'clock, the bride party will go directly to the Governor's home, where a wedding breakfast will be served with a few close friends of the Governor present.

The Governor will have shortly after for the State House, accompanied by his aide, Adjutant-General William T. Rowe, in the Governor's private car.

Mrs. Dennis, at an appointed time, will leave 330 Janeway street, where a wedding breakfast will be served with a few close friends of the Governor present.

It is probable that the Governor and his bride will meet at the Boston airport, to take a plane to New York.

Although the Governor and Mrs. Dennis steadily refuse to divulge any more details of the plans, it was learned that the wedding breakfast will be held at the Governor's home.

BAGGAGE SHIPPED

Tomorrow morning several pieces of baggage containing clothing of both the Governor and his bride will be shipped to New York.

Shipment of the baggage a day ahead will expedite the Governor's plans to leave the state soon after the wedding ceremony.

It is believed also that the Governor is aware of plans of anti-socials to defray expenses of a band which will be present at the wedding.

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING

Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to free scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.

Doctors recommend an oil ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve itching, burning and stinging of eczema. It contains nothing but ingredients that aid healing.

The Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, Resinol, Dept. 1, Baltimore, Md.

CONDEMNED SEXTET HAVE JITTERS Three Still Hope for Life Sentences

Quining, N. Y., Jan. 5 (AP)—Quiet, and really scared for apparently the first time since they murdered a subway coin collector in Brooklyn, six men waited today in the death cells at Sing Sing for the legal electrocution bolt scheduled to strike them all down Thursday night.

The nerves of Theodore Didona, 31, eldest of the group; Salvatore Scata, 19, the "baby" of the mob; Dominic Zizzo, 27; Eugene Bruno, 23; Sam Kimmel, 22; and Joseph Regino, 24, who actually fired the death shot, suffered as they waited for New York's largest mass execution in 25 years.

Warden Lewis E. Lawes, known as an opponent of capital punishment, sought some way of arranging for the 25 to 30 relatives of the condemned men to see the prisoners as long as possible on their last day of living.

The first man will be strapped in the electric chair at about 11 p. m. Thursday night. The sixth probably will be pronounced legally dead within the following 20 minutes.

Sing Sing has only three "visiting cages" from which condemned men may talk with one guest at a time. The booth in which the visitor sits is enclosed in fire-proof wire, as well as the prisoner's cage, so that nothing may pass between them.

distance of about three feet. Guards which closely.

Capacity was just about reached Sunday, when five of the six prisoners received 16 ciphers. No one came to see Didona.

Although Robert Elliott, who throws the switch on New York's condemned men, has been ordered to be in readiness to execute six men, three of the group still hold hope of commutation of sentence to life imprisonment.

Although the Court of Appeals was unanimous in upholding the death sentences of Didona, Scata, Bruno and Kimmel, they were Justice Irving Lehman, brother of Governor Lehman, and Justice John Leughran.

In the past both former governors Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt reduced sentences to life imprisonment when the dissent of two justices of the Court of Appeals indicated "reasonable doubt" of the most drastic of verdicts.

Inaugural Tour Contest Winners Chosen

Scene They'll See

Here in gala array is the National Capitol as it looks on Inauguration Day. Here, this year, Massachusetts' "Lucky 20" will be honored guests.

Bay State's Best

Twenty Massachusetts High School Students, their entries outstanding among about 10,000 submitted, prepared today to go to Washington.

20 Happy Winners Prepare for Trip

"You won! You're leaving for Washington Tuesday, January 19. And you're to be a guest at President Roosevelt's inauguration."

That was the good news that went out today to 20 Massachusetts high school students, ten girls and ten boys.

For they are the ones who submitted the best answers to the first Inaugural Tour Contest in the Boston Evening American's Roosevelt Inaugural Tour Competition.

They were nearly 10,000 entries from almost every city and town in the state. Exciting entries, some of them. All a credit to the schools the boys and girls attend and to the teachers who instilled them. But only 20 could win.

Only the Best

After their hour the judges, headed by State Commissioner of Education James G. Beardon, studied the student answers. It was a tremendous task. The cooperating judges, Boston University Professor Robert Earl Moody, Mrs. James Cunningham (High American Legion State Commander) William F. Ryan and Lexington Schoolmaster Arthur R. Giroux, worked late and long.

Finally 20 names were handed to the contest director. They were the winners. Immediately there was a telephone call to Boston, where down there on Cape Cod, Mrs. Mary E. Colburn, 17-year-old daughter of Captain and Mrs. Harold L. Colburn of Washington, avenue, Barnstable Bay, answered.

"Hello, Mary," said the contest director. "You've won. You're going to Washington."

Without losing a minute, Mary ran to the home of her history teacher, Miss Helen E. Dill. Together, they called High School Principal Kempton J. Condy. All over town spread the news of Mary's good fortune.

Said Principal Kempton: "Miss Colburn's success in the Boston Evening American contest is a great honor to Bourne High School. We are all proud and grateful."

Then the contest director called Mary-Mary E. Colburn, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McConomy of 14 Street road, Bourne.

"You've won, Mary," he said again. "Yes, you've gone to Washington."

It was a complete surprise, far beyond Mary's fondest hopes. "I can't believe it," she kept saying.

"It's too good to be true. Honestly, it's like a wonderful dream."

It's No Dream

Of course, Mary felt that it was no dream, but the reward too good to lose. Mary gave the dressing her mother. She was making in this way at the Academy of Notre Dame in Braintree and she hopes some day to be a lawyer. But, just now, she's thinking of Washington and nothing else.

A third telephone call and a third Mary! This time, Mary A. Clifford, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Clifford of 214 Marston street, Springfield. This Mary, it now with influence and with in fact, is a student at Springfield Classical high and a talented amateur actress.

Some day, she hopes, it may be Hollywood. But that must wait. Just at present it's Washington.

There were 17 other telephone calls and 17 widely young girls and boys.

There was Carol Rowland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Rowland of 67 Pleasant street, Arlington. Henry, who edited the Arlington High School, is a junior and a member of the track team.

There was Walter S. Trask, Jr., 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trask of 11 Clinton street, Cambridge, who edited the Cambridge Herald. He father let him a new hat if he won.

Nearly 10,000 Join In Great Contest

of the city's outstanding students. Training to be a secretary and hoping to enter civil service, Alice was more than anxious to go to Washington, for that city may some day be her home.

A few minutes later there was rejoicing at 48 Garrison avenue, West Somerville. For that is where Miss Rita N. Regan lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Regan. And Rita, to Somerville's very Washington trip contest, who attended Somerville High School and is a junior.

Virginia King, Boston's High school, was going for a walk with her dog, doudle, when her mother called to her from the porch.

"Virginia," she shouted, "Virginia! The Boston American's on the phone. They say you've won the contest. You're going to Washington."

For new Virginia's cousin Ronald, winning contest to attend a ball with Charles H. Savage, Jr., son of Representative and Mrs. Charles H. Savage of 2 Greater road, West Roxbury.

"You," said he, "am I glad!"

Another glad boy is Edward Fitzpatrick, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Fitzpatrick of 16 Shaw street, East Braintree. Called from his senior class at Braintree High School and informed that he had won a trip, Edward exclaimed:

"I never thought I would get to see Washington, and especially one of the most important events in American history. When do we start? I'm ready now."

Immediately she rushed to 21 Vermont street, where her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Sawyer, live. And there was no happier scene in all Massachusetts, one so glad as the father's.

To Lawrence went another telephone message bearing the joyful news of her victory in Miss Anna Mary Laudani daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laudani of 28½ Oak street. Anna is a junior at Lawrence High School and is considered one of the city's outstanding students.

Joseph, junior class member, is 16 and lives with his father and mother at 366 Great road, Maynard.

Dorchester's lucky boy is Kenneth Singer, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Singer of 19 York street. Although only 15, Kenneth is a senior at Boston Latin. "I told that he had won, he confided."

"My prayer has been answered. I never have been far away, not alone anyway. And I did so much want to go to Washington."

Brighton's victor, Alex Theodore Marfiz, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Marfiz didn't have the slightest idea he'd win. Alex has been in this country only two years and received his education in Paris and London, where American history is by no means a favorite subject.

But Alex went to the public library, obtained ten books, read them, and now he's packing his suitcase for Washington.

Eileen MacPherson can do the Highland Fling as well as any girl in this State, she says as herself. She's also a mighty good drum major in the Legion corps.

QUINN URGES CRIME WAR IN R. I. INAUGURAL

There is no place for them in Rhode Island, and it specifically is the state and city police to drive them out of this state. We do not want to wait for some day when they will be the result of this action," Governor Quinn expressed to his inaugural address.

Quinn's address was a call for a "crime war" in Rhode Island. He said that the state and city police must be given the authority to drive out of the state any and all criminals who are a menace to the public safety.

The Junior Birdmen Of America

School studies may be a necessary evil to a lot of boys and girls, but there is a class where the pupils never "pass" a task. One day a lot of boys and girls pass the "examinations" in memorizing the names of the Junior Birdmen of America.

The overall image has a grainy, historical quality.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC

Moderate
GAIN SEEN
For N. E.

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Freight traffic in New England during the first quarter will show a gain of about 5.4 per cent, according to the current estimate of the Shippers' Regional Advisory Board.

Translated into monthly figures of about 124,123 tons, which is slightly more than in the corresponding month of 1936, the Board expects for the quarter as a whole.

While the forecast shows a moderate gain in freight traffic, it is worth noting that the 1936 figures of 124,123 tons, which were the highest since 1931, were the result of a combination of factors, including a record crop of 1936, a record year for the steel industry, and a record year for the automobile industry.

The Board's estimate is based on a survey of the freight traffic of the New England states, including Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Vermont. The Board's estimate is based on a survey of the freight traffic of the New England states, including Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

New York, Jan. 3.—The stock market clutched at rallying straws today and selected issues managed to climb fractions to 2 or more points.

There were a few active buyers in the market for the most part. The price was far from firm. The fourth hour saw a few offerings appeared to reduce the market's advance.

There were more quiet than in the morning. The market was not as active as in the morning. The market was not as active as in the morning. The market was not as active as in the morning.

DRIVE TO OUST RED COLLEGE GROWING

Mesa, Ariz., Jan. 5.—A determined drive to oust the red element from the American College, operated by Communists in the American College, was launched today by local citizens as they gathered around the building to protest against the school's policy of admitting students without regard to their political beliefs.

As a result of this morning's protest, the American College, which is a private institution, has agreed to a new policy of admitting students without regard to their political beliefs. The school's policy of admitting students without regard to their political beliefs was the cause of the protest.

"We expect that this college, as it is now, will be a good school for many years to come," said one of the protesters. "We expect that this college, as it is now, will be a good school for many years to come."
